Christmas—the coming of Christ—did not come without forewarning. For literally hundreds of years, God had promised the coming of a Savior, one who would set his people free. As we consider many facets of Christmas this year during Advent, we begin with the perspective of God’s promise: Christmas... according to the prophets.

The prophets foretold Christmas, the coming of Christ...

❖ To give us _____

❖ To give us _____

Only God could have thought of Christmas!

And he did. So well-planned was Christmas that prophets foretold the event with amazing accuracy hundreds of years before the actual birth of Jesus. Let us fall to our knees and proclaim: “O come, let us adore him—Christ the Lord!”
