Genesis 23

Death is a part of our common experience as humans, yet it often comes into our lives unwanted and unbidden. The death of a close loved one brings grief and sorrow. How do we deal with death? What should our response be when death comes? Does the Bible give us help in dealing with death, just as it gives in dealing with life?

Here are three steps for dealing with death...

❖ _____ and _____ over your loss.

❖ _____ the dead and _____ that memory.

❖ Allow other _____ to give you
_____.

These build the foundation for dealing with the deaths of our loved ones. The foundation for dealing with your own death is a relationship with God through Jesus Christ. Do you have a personal relationship with God?
