James 4.11-17

Last week, James made it clear we have two choices in life—God or the world. We can choose one or the other but not both. Even when we do choose God, there are hurdles that can render us ineffective in our walk with him—if we do not overcome them. In this passage, James warns us of three dangers to avoid.

Are you on the lookout for these dangers that will be hindrances to your being all that God wants you to be?

What is one thing God would have you do this week in response to his word?
