For the past century or more, tension has mounted between science and faith. Many want to know: Is it possible to be intellectually honest and open to discovery in this world and universe and still believe in the God of the Bible? Many have found that it is hard to believe in the face of scientific discovery. Is it?

A problem from some believers:

_____ on adherence to _____ beliefs

A problem from some scientists:

Ruling out the _____ of the _____ Four foundational essential beliefs for a Christian:

- ❖ God is the _____ . Genesis 1.1

- ❖ Man is a _____ creation. Genesis 1.26-27
(not just a _____)

- ❖ _____ is real. Genesis 3

- ❖ _____ is necessary. 1 Peter 3.18

When you consider it all, it's not so hard to believe after all. There are no necessary conflicts between faith and science, because all truth is God's truth, and he is not trying to fool us.

Are you ready to put your belief in him today?
